Long Distance/Local

Hello Mary,

Thank you for replying to my offer to be a Product Tester....Since you live in Lexington, it's about an hour drive from Roanoke. You would have two options...

✅ Option #1 you could come in person to do your product testing and that just involves you coming here trying on a couple of the new styles ...giving me your feedback and getting your name into the drawing for $79 in Ruby Bucks ... If you love the product and decide to order upon testing, you will get a 10% discount on your first order plus your name would still go in the drawing..

✅ Option #2 We could discuss the new styles that you're interested in, find the one or ones that would best suit you. You would order and if in fact, you decided you wanted to keep what you ordered I would reimburse you the 10% discount... if for any reason you weren't happy with it I would pay the return shipping fee for you. Please let me know if you're interested...We would have to do this within the next seven days. 🎀💕🎀💕

Thanks and a hug for shopping small.

Hello Mary,

Thank for replying to my offer to be a Product Tester.

So if you had lived local, there would've been the option to do an in person testing, but since you're not we could discuss the new styles that you're interested in find the ones that would best suit you. You would order and if in fact you decided you wanted to keep any I would reimburse you for a 10% discount... if for any reason you weren't happy with what you purchased I would pay the return shipping fee for you. Either way you would still be eligible to get your name in the drawing for the $79 Ruby Bucks just for giving me your feedback...Please let me know if you're interested...we would have to do this within the next seven days. 🎀💕🎀💕
